Re: San Francisco Littoral Cell
Coastal Regional Sediment Management Plan Workshop

Dr. Mr. Rapport, Ms. Ming and Ms Kelly,

We at Surfrider just want to add to the public comment record that we see the San Francisco CRSMP process completely free of bias of any kind. The projections of future erosion rates and the suite of alternative approaches to erosion response have been laid out in a dispassionate fashion, with all the benefits and drawbacks on full display. We look forward to continue working through the San Francisco CRSMP, which we view as an essential tool for planning in our coastal communities.

Sincerely,

Bill McLaughlin
